THE PHOENIX

YEAR BOOK OF
CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
NINETEEN HUNDRED TWENTY-THREE

*Scenes of my youth! Awake its slumbering fire!
Ye winds of memory, sweep the silent lyre;
Ray of the past, if yet thou canst appear,
Break through the clouds of Senex' waning year;
Chase from his head the thin autumnal snow,
And bring back the days of long ago!*

Book One
University

Alma Mater

*On Old Lebanon's western border,
Reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
As the years roll by.*

*Forward ever be our watchword;
Conquer and prevail!
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater—
Cumberland, all hail!*

*Cherished by thy sons forever,
Mem'ries sweet shall throng
'Round our hearts, oh, Alma Mater,
As we sing this song!*

Cumberland University Preparatory School

The Preparatory Department of Cumberland University has had one of the most successful years in its history.

With a splendid faculty which puts emphasis on scholarship and insists on high attainments, that it may reach the highest goal in character moulding, Cumberland Prep yields first place to no other school in the preparation of her pupils for college or for life. Whatever conduces to character formation in the class room, on the athletic field, in confidential talks between members of the faculty and the student body, is stressed. This school is strictly religious in principle and character.

Well-equipped laboratories and library, splendid class rooms, comfortable dormitories, adequately furnished gymnasiums make it possible for ideal work to be carried out.

This is an accredited school and offers great affiliation advantages; here you can be prepared for any college in the United States. A diploma from a school of this character is a great asset for a boy or girl. Someone has aptly said that a diploma from a standard American school is like the hallmark on sterling silverware—it does not make it any better silver, but it does stamp it as of certain quality and fineness; or like the stamp of the mint on the $20 gold piece—it does not make it any purer gold, but it does tell the world what it is.

If a boy or girl is going to college, a diploma from Cumberland Prep will not only give him a pass into college, but it will prepare him in such a way that he will be stamped with a certain quality and fineness after he has entered, or if he goes into business life he will find it distinctly an asset.

'Twas blow for blow disputing inch by inch, for one would not retreat, nor t'other flinch.

—Byron: Don Juan.

Book Three Athletics

Coach Byrd Douglas

Who inoculated that incomparable, undaunted and invincible college spirit into Cumberland? Was it the old Dixie culture of Cumberland or was it Douglas and his products? To be sure, it was both, for culture without vim would not have resulted in the splendid achievements our athletics have made on every field of sport since Coach Byrd Douglas, better known as "Let's Go" Douglas, became one of us. Last September, when Coach Douglas took entire control of the athletic activities of the university, he was confronted with the task of restoring the hardy glory that was once the treasured possession of Cumberland. His work was uneasy, but by his sterling ability as a director, and with his motto, "Clean sports" as a criterion, he introduced into the university a system of robust sports heretofore unknown in the South, and it is with commendable pride that a Cumberland student points to "Let's Go" Douglas as coach. Byrd is familiar with every sport and game played and is regarded by colleges throughout the entire country as an authority. He is the author of the "Science of Baseball," a book read by everyone and everywhere baseball is played. In 1916 he was awarded first prize for being the best all-American college catcher. He graduated from Princeton a star catcher and in 1921 he was denominated

"King" Douglas by Vanderbilt University, where he was star coach, which resulted in that institution being regarded as the crest of baseball in the South. Byrd is a graduate from Princeton and Cumberland and holds the degrees of Lit.B. and LL.B. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and numerous clubs and social organizations. In 1920 he was elected secretary and treasurer of the Tennessee Bar Association.

Today, Cumberland is known throughout the entire country as a university where only the truest and cleanest type of sportsman is permitted to participate in athletics, and this distinction and our many victories are mainly due to the untiring efforts of the South's greatest all-round coach, "Let's Go" Douglas.

As long as Byrd's ideals and his strong, influential personality remain here, a renewal of Cumberland's athletic leadership is assured.

CUMBERLAND, 65; OGDEN, 0

Before the largest crowd of the season congregated within the walls of Kirk Field the Bulldogs, on Armistice Day, handed the Ogden team the small end of a 65-to-0 score. After three minutes of play Arnett, on an end-around-end play, went across for the first touchdown, and the battle was on. Coach Guerry sent the second string men in at the beginning of the second quarter, who stayed in for nearly two whole periods, and never allowed their goal to be in danger. Humbled and humiliated, the Ogden crew took their medicine dose by dose, realizing that the Bulldogs were the stronger team. Nothing but a stone wall could have stopped the attack of the Bulldogs on this day. The wonderful spirit of the students that prevailed at this game inspired the gridiron warriors of Cumberland to fight more and more for the Maroon and White.

CUMBERLAND, 6; TENNESSEE
POLYTECHNIC, 6.

The Bulldogs wandered down through East Tennessee and lost to King College by a score of 40 to 0, showing a brand of football never seen before in Bristol and early winning the admiration of the crowd and their opponents by their smiling fight and shifty speed. The Bulldogs caused the King Collegians trouble during every minute of play. At no time in the game did the Bulldogs fail to threaten the soldiers' goal line. Blair and Clement stood out above their teammates in the defensive work, while Board and Cockrill displayed the best working offensive play. Owing to the illness of Captain Boswell and Dutch Studer, two vacancies were created in the Bulldogs' line-up which were next to impossible to fill. These two men were greatly missed in this game.

"Sheenie" Cockrill, Quarterback, 150 Lbs.—A born field general and a fighter in football is this "Sheenie." A hard-working and dependable back, who will wear the Maroon and White next year.

"Willie" Williams, End, 155 Lbs.—This captain-elect is an infallible defender of the right wing, and one of the best defensive men of the team. Willie showed varsity calibre.

"Jim" Blair, Tackle, 190 Lbs.—A tower of strength in the line at all times, Jim has never failed to deliver the goods in all departments of the game. We can count on him for one of the mainstays for 1923.

"Old Lady" Boswell (Captain), Center, 180 Lbs.—This captain of the 1922 Bulldogs has proved by his unerring football ability for the last two years to be one of the best centers Cumberland has ever had. He is a happy combination of a hard fighter and a true sport.

CUMBERLAND, 0; UNIVERSITY OF CHATTANOOGA, 40.

After a long and tiresome ride the Bulldogs met their first reverse of the year when they encountered U. of C. on the latter's gridiron. As a result of the T. P. I. game the preceding week, many of the Bulldogs were suffering from injuries. The history of the game shows that there was no fault in the fighting spirit of the Bulldogs, as the Chattanooga team has a wonderful record and is one of the best elevens in these parts. Cumberland's playing in the first half was distinctly superior to that of Chattanooga. A free-for-all fumble gave Chattanooga the ball after the Bulldogs had carried it to the Chattanooga four-yard line on the kickoff.

CUMBERLAND, 6; TENNESSEE POLYTECHNIC, 6.

Before one of the biggest crowds ever assembled at a football game in Lebanon, the Bulldogs opened their season by accepting "Madame Luck's" decree, and took the count of a 6-to-6 tie with the T. P. I. warriors. A hard-fought game was this, from start to finish, but easily it could be seen that C. U. outplayed their rivals in every department of the game. Basinger, left half, made Cumberland's only touchdown early in the second period, after a series of end runs and forward passes had brought the ball to T. P. I.'s eight-yard line.

"Red" Clement, Guard, 165 Lbs.—"Red" lays behind him the well deserved impression that he is a great fighter and a skilled player. He is always ready to "get in a scrap."

"Horse" Jolly, End, 160 Lbs.—"Horse" was always on the job, and a mighty good man it took to get him off his feet. Aggressive and steady playing have characterized him as an end.

"Dude" Wesson, Halfback, 160 Lbs.—He has been a consistent gainer all the season, and has shown them the way a backfield man should step off. Look out for him next year.

"Bell" Ingram, Fullback, 168 Lbs.—"Bell" has been the power behind the line who could always stop the onslaught of any opponent. He is one of the hardest drivers on the team.

"Tuck" Tucker, Guard, 170 Lbs.—"Tuck" played a hard game and knew his position well. He fought every minute and will be a good man for next year.

"Fats" Davis, Guard, 210 Lbs.—"Fats" knew his stuff as a good linesman, and always wore a smile.

"Bud" Beard, Halfback, 175 Lbs.—With his speed, headwork and all-round football ability, Bud has played a stellar, always dependable game.

"Hib" Hibbett, Quarterback, 150 Lbs.—A fighter for every ounce of his weight. "Hib" leaves behind a record as a good general.

CUMBERLAND, 12; BRYSON, 0.

In a drizzling rain and on a muddy field the Bulldogs played their last game of the season to be seen in Lebanon, when they defeated Bryson to a final score of 12 to 0. Outweight, and with the odds and dope against them, the Bulldogs on the kickoff hit the mud with the old determination to win. In the first half Cockrill, on Bryson's three-yard line, plunged over right guard for the first touchdown. "Sheenie," wearing his smile, played a hard fighting game and was taken from the field twice on account of severe injuries. Wesson, on an off-tackle play, shaking man after man off, ran thirty-five yards of pretty broken field for the second and last touchdown.

CUMBERLAND, 7; ST. LOUIS, 30.

The Bulldogs crossed four states into Missouri to meet the St. Louis University on Sportsman Field. Laboring under the heavy shadow from an accident which occurred in Nashville en route to St. Louis, the Bulldogs fought their best. David Beck, guard; Roy Fleak, guard; Sam Bone, fullback, sustained injuries that kept them from the Bulldog line-up. In the words of a St. Louis newspaper, "Cumberland equaled St. Louis in every department of play, and excelled the Billikins in fighting spirit and courage." Though snowed under by four touchdowns, the Cumberland crew ran it in the final period and put over their only touchdown, when Wesson, halfback, made a hard run on an off-tackle play from the ten-yard line. Davis kicked goal. Studer, Blair, Clement, Williams and Wesson displayed their ability as real warriors of the gridiron against the Billikins.

CUMBERLAND, 18; BETHEL (Ky.), 0.

After the defeat at the hands of the University of St. Louis, the Bulldogs came home with a strong determination to give the Kentuckians a slaughtering that time cannot erase. As a result of this the Bulldogs unloaded both barrels by defeating Bethel College, 18 to 0. If space would permit, each man wearing the Maroon and White would deserve much praise for their remarkable fighting in this game.

CUMBERLAND, 0; WEST KENTUCKY
NORMAL, 0.

For the third time the Bulldogs lined up for the initial kickoff and suffered another tie game after outplaying their rivals. Blair and Clement stood out as the stars in this game. The Bulldogs' goal was never in danger. Wesson made a long broken field run, but hard luck cost the Bulldogs the ball on the next play.

CUMBERLAND, 0; UNION, 13.

Clearly outplaying their opponents in their Turkey Day battle, the Bulldogs suffered the hardest defeat of the year in losing to the Unionites by a score of 13 to 0. Without a doubt this was the hardest battle of the year, and every man wearing the Maroon and White strained every muscle to conquer these long rivals. Each year for the past many, the Bulldogs have had their heart set on beating this aggregation on Turkey Day, but, again after fairly playing better football every minute of the game, they carry another defeat. "Sheenie" Cockrill displayed rare ability as a track man when in the second quarter he outran one of Union's backs after he had recovered one of Cumberland's fumbles and had gotten beyond the line of scrimmage and started for a touchdown. "Sheenie" downed him on the four-yard line. Each Bulldog warrior fought every minute.

Fleak, Guard, 169 Lbs.—A mighty consistent linesman was Fleak. He could always be depended upon "to get his man."

"Abbie" Arnett, End, 155 Lbs.—By consistent work from the first of the season, Abbie proved to be the most accurate receiver of passes on the team. During the past season he had surprised many a larger man.

"Mac" McReynolds, Tackle, 175 Lbs.—A linesman ever aggressive and always on the job, Mac has proven his ability many times over.

"Sam" Bone, Fullback, 175 Lbs.—Sam is a valuable combination of speed and brains and knows how to hit a line. He has all the qualities of a real star and will certainly be in the limelight next year.

"Beb" Laden, Tackle, 170 Lbs.—He put his heart and soul into the game and hit his man hard.

Prep Football

Although this was the first year the Preps had a football team, they showed that they had the material for a first-class team. Much of their success is due to their coach, "Spike" Malone, who, by his ability as a coach and his knowledge of the game made it possible for the Preps to be scored on only once. The Preps were always characterized for their hard fighting and clean sportsmanship and tried always to uphold their name as the Cumberland Bulldog "Pups." From the men that were out there was found many who promise to make real college athletes in the future.

The team as a whole showed great form throughout the year. Each tried to make the strength of the others stronger, and if there were weaknesses, to hide them, or cover them in the general good points of the whole.

The line-up was:

Ends—W. K. McClain, Catron and Bone.
Tackles—Elam, Cook, Doty.
Guards—Bailey, Stovall and Baddour.
Center—Humphreys.
Quarterback—Hereford.
Halfbacks—Majors, Mount and Gothard.
Fullback—Majors.

Cumberland University Basketball Team

- J. A. CLEMENT, Captain.—Captain "Archibald" Clement was not rivaled by a single player on the Cumberland team. Certain it is at times he was not the most spectacular player in certain games, but when an average is taken for the entire year, it will be seen that, for consistent playing and a perfect knowledge of the game, he was not to be excelled.
- R. L. MACEY.—Playing his second year on the Cumberland Basketball team, Macey surpassed all former years in efficiency on the court. Although handicapped somewhat by his size in such a game, he nevertheless overcame such odds by his speed and his ability to drop the sphere through the basket from all positions of the floor.
- TUCKER.—Tucker is absolutely the product of his bulldog determination to play basketball. The big forward started out to win a position on the team, and was rewarded by it. Possibly no man on the team could be depended upon better to keep the ball, once he got his fingers upon it, than "Tuck."
- TACKETT.—Tackett began his collegiate career at Cumberland by making a reputation for himself in the zone of basketball. His lithe and sinewy build enabled him to get about the floor with ease and speed and to drop the ball through the basket with a grace that characterized him as one of the best shots on the team.
- J. T. BLAIR.—As a guard, Blair was a tower of strength to Cumberland. His large, well-knit figure could be seen in every play throughout the season; and it was a foregone conclusion that when Blair was to be the opponent of a man on another team, that man was not destined to cage many goals. His aggressiveness and good sportsmanship contributed much to the team and to the glory of Cumberland.
- SMITH.—Since Cumberland's team was built for speed, the quintet was fortunate in having Smith on its list of performers. His fleetness of foot, combined with his knack of getting the ball away from an opponent, made him a valuable and dependable player always.
- W. E. WILLIAMS.—Williams was one of the fastest men to wear the Maroon and White uniform, and showed his ability to shoot and range the floor in a way that won the admiration of everybody.
- PARKE.—Although this being "Hazel's" first year with a college quintet, he played stellar ball throughout the entire year. He was light, fast, and consistent, and could be depended upon to do his best every game.

Prep Basketball

The Preps, under the guidance of Coach Morris, a former letter man of Mercer University, champions of the S. I. A. A., turned out one of the fastest and cleanest teams in the state. The Preps showed an improvement over former years, winning the majority of their games. Members of the team were:

"Race Horse" Elam, captain of the team, and who played the center position, was noted for his floor work and shooting ability.

Moore, although this being his first year, played a fine class of ball throughout the season, and was the Preps' main scoring man.

Opposite Moore played "Kid Arsenic" McClain, who was poison with the ball, although the lightest man on the team. He played his position well.

McDonald, who played running guard, showed great ability at ringing the basket, as well as playing "an air-tight" guard position.

"Stone Wall" House, at standing guard, was difficult to make goals over, as many found to their sorrow. He was the hardest plunger on the team, and fought to hold back each point.

Bone, sub forward, who is a hard worker and a loyal member of the team, showed great form, and is the Preps' most promising material for next year.

Catron, sub center and forward, was another loyal member of the team, always working hard to do his part.

Baseball Outlook

The baseball prospects for 1923 are exceedingly bright. At this early date it is impossible to say anything definite about the team for this year, but it is certain that our prospects are encouraging.

Several of our men are back from last year's team. There is plenty of material to pick from and the coach will have no trouble in selecting a hard hitting and fast fielding team. Our schedule has not been completed, but games will be played with the leading universities of the South. We confidently believe that our team will make its mark with the best teams in Dixie as it has always done.

We are to be congratulated on having as coach Mims Tynner, star catcher on the Vanderbilt champions of the South last year. He has demonstrated his ability to play the game and coupled with this he has a practical and workable knowledge of baseball.

1922 Baseball Team

The baseball team of 1922 was known as the "Lawyers." Never has a team fought harder to bring old Cumberland to the top than this bunch of fast-fielding and record-breaking hitters. They were a willing and able group of players and worked perfectly in their places. Coach Bert Hodge moulded his material into the machine that fought so well. Putting his heart and soul into his work he worked untiringly and saw his team register thirteen victories and tie one game out of the twenty-three played.

On the list of victims that met their "Waterloo" at the hands of the lawyers may be seen such strong teams as Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, Southwestern Presbyterian University and Maryville College. Several games were lost by a one-run margin which fate seems to have snatched from the hands of the Lawyers.

Patrick, Shoemaker, Sturgeon and McNabb were the pitchers that worked so wonderfully. With Macey and Shifflet on the receiving end these hurlers were classed as pitchers that had no peer in college baseball. "Spike" Malone, a sure fielder, and a "Babe" Ruth at the bat, had a long line of hits to his credit, together with his good performance in the field.

Be it said in return for their splendid record that never in the history of Cumberland has a team fought any harder than the "Lawyers," who were in the scrap from the first ball thrown until the umpire had decreed the last out. Their Alma Mater and every student is proud of them.

We must all hang together or assuredly we will all hang separately. ◻ ◻ ◻ ◻ ◻

The Y. M. C. A. was first organized in Cumberland University in 1856. Its history has proven the value of a Christian organization. Most of the college activities do not put forth much effort toward Christian development, while the Y. M. C. A.'s greatest effort is toward Christian development.

"Consider what shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul." The Y. M. C. A. is free to all students, and it will help to develop you into a strong religious character. Weekly religious programs are rendered in the Y. M. C. A. parlor, where the members are taught to lead the devotionals, to lead in prayer, and to speak on religious subjects. The Y. M. C. A. also conducts weekly prayer meetings, which are conducted in the different students' rooms, and at various times religious programs are rendered at the different churches at the Sunday evening hour.

Someone has said that there are questions that we must answer not with lips, but with life. The world today is calling for Christian leaders in every aspect of life. The Y. M. C. A. is a place where students may be helped in developing themselves to answer the various calls into service.

The Y. W. C. A.

Since the Y. W. C. A. convention, held at Hot Springs, Ark., last spring, the Student Department of the national association has been much more active, and this influence has been felt in Cumberland University. Today, as never before, there surges an ever-increasing throng of eager young women through the halls of our colleges and universities, bent upon securing the best in education. These years of college life are frequently the most important for the moulding and development of character. The chief purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is to help the young women in the school to develop character along Christian lines.

In 90 per cent of the colleges and universities in which women are in attendance there is an association trying to carry out this purpose, and in each case it is a great factor for good in student life.

The absolute need of Bible study and prayer during college life is recognized by all. Christian fellowship is needed. Help, guidance and inspiration must be supplied.

It is through the regular services and through consecrated efforts that the Young Woman's Christian Association supplies these needs. It seeks to deepen the sense of reverence, to arouse a passion for service, and to infuse with a fresh motive the daily activities of life.

At Cumberland it has always played an important part in the lives of the young women in the school and has held before them the highest Christian standards, being one of the strongest religious forces in the university since its organization many years ago.

The Hypatian Literary Society was organized in September, 1921. Its object is to afford the students an opportunity for developing their minds, increasing their store of literary knowledge, and promoting the arts of elocution and debate.

The society embraces in its organization the co-educational idea of the institution of which it is a part, and thus affords the further advantages and benefits arising from the mingling of the sexes in public gatherings. The practical benefits to be derived from such training cannot be overestimated.

Though yet in her infancy, the Hypatian Society has already forged to the front in the literary activities of the university. In 1922 she won the highly prized Williamson Cup in the Intersociety Contest, when she was represented by two of her worthy sons, Messrs. Rufus G. Hibbett and Samuel Hankins, who returned to her hall crowned with the glories of victory and bearing with them precious trophies gathered from the fields of forensic warfare.

The society holds its weekly meetings in elaborately and handsomely furnished rooms on the third floor in Memorial Hall, where all things are done decently and in order.

The Amassagassean Literary Society was organized in 1847. It is the oldest society in the university, and its record is one of honorary distinction. It is impossible to estimate the value of a literary society. "It is a school of leadership," it develops a sense of responsibility, self-reliance and loyalty. In the society we learn of parliamentary law, and by experience we sometimes learn what it means to violate regulations, how to hold elections, to make and amend by-laws, to obey the leaders that we have elected, thereby learning to practice self-government. Today the social, religious, educational and political world are calling for trained leaders, of which the literary societies are doing a great part in training men and women for such needs. The Amassagassean representative won first prize in the Annual Declamation Contest of 1922 and won second place in the Annual Interdepartmental Oratorical Contest. We have representatives on the varsity football, baseball, and basketball teams, and on the Student Council, PHOENIX Staff, and all other activities of the university.

PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

SENIORS

Philomathean Literary Society

EARLY a score of years prior to the outbreak of the Civil War the students of the Law Class of '48 first organized a chapter of the Philomathean Literary Society at Cumberland. They applied for a charter to the grand order at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, and it was granted to them with the provision that they confer the degree of "Bachelor of Oratory" only to those members who possess the degree of "Legum Baccalaureus" in addition to the requisite forensic ability, and this shall be "sine qua non."

From year to year this degree was conferred by the society, and its alumni may be found in every state in the Union, in Europe, and Asia, and it is with commendable pride that the society points to these men and women in the United States Congress, judges on the bench in both federal and state courts, and lawyers and Portias everywhere. Indeed, wherever found, they attribute their knowledge of the forensic arts mainly to the days when they were active constituents of the society.

The year 1922-23 has been a banner one, and the association is greatly indebted to the officers and the carefully selected program committees for their unerring endeavors. Each weekly meeting has been one of education and amusement, and was well attended by students of every department of the University and citizens of Lebanon who were invited gratis. Throughout the year debates and oratorical contests were held between the members, and addresses were delivered by many able speakers. Music was never lacking, for the members created their own jazz band, and thus were assured of sprightly entertainments.

The 1922-23 officers were:

E. W. MCKAY, Texas	President
Y. Q. CALDWELL, Tennessee	Vice-President

CARUTHERS LITERARY SOCIETY

The Texas Club

FOLLOWING the custom of previous years, the law students from the "Lone Star" state met in historic Caruthers Hall on Friday, September 22, 1922, and perpetuated the "Texas Club" for another school year. The purposes of this time-honored club of old Cumberland are the promotions of the social activities among the "Longhorns" and the mutual discussion of Texas law.

TEXAS CLUB

In furtherance of the objects and purposes which are common to all fraternities represented in Cumberland, the council was called into being to give a definite direction and effect to those principles with the idea that concerted action could thus be more efficiently accomplished—each chapter in the school has two representatives. The function of the Pan-Hellenic Council is to make and enforce rules and regulations governing their affairs in relation to each other, such as rushing and pledging rules.

However, said rules and regulations are more in the nature of agreements between gentlemen than strict rules of law, and depend more for their sanction and authority upon a high sense of honor than upon a liability to punishment for the infraction thereof. It is a matter deserving of special mention, and a cause for high tribute to the organizations represented, that no rule of the council has been knowingly and willfully violated.

As additions among the national fraternities are made at Cumberland they are taken into the council. The national frats now represented are: Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Psi Chi, Sigma Nu Phi, and Kappa Sigma.

The council insists upon a high standard being constantly maintained by those chapters represented, and wherever it comes to its notice that the scholarship requirements are not being lived up to, it takes immediate steps to call the lax member to account.

A Brief History of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity

THE Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was founded at the University of Alabama March 9, 1856, by Noble Leslie De Votie and ten other men who attended the university at that time. Today the fraternity has ninety-four chapters stationed at as many schools throughout the land, with a total membership of 27,000. Thirty-eight of the chapters are stationed at state universities.

Tennessee Lambda of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was established in Cumberland University in 1860 and stands fifth among the chapters in age. At present Tennessee Lambda has 513 alumni scattered throughout the entire land, many of whom have gained national fame. At present there are seventeen active men in the chapter, nine of whom are in the academic department and eight in the department of law. During the year 1922 Sigma Alpha Epsilon at Cumberland had fifteen letter men on the various teams, three of whom were captains. In other phases of school life as well as in athletics the fraternity is well represented, having four class presidents during the past year and three representatives on both the "Kickoff" and PHOENIX staffs. On the Student Council Tennessee Lambda has four members. Tennessee Lambda has recently moved into a new chapter house.

- PROF. J. O. BAIRD—A lover of chemistry. Loved by those who know him best.
- JACK CANNON—The Irish Yankee from Providence. The boys' best friend.
- EDDIE CORLEY—The prep school professor. A regular triumph with the ladies.
- JAMES BURKE—The successful man. Rules with peace and dignity.
- CHARLES KIRKPATRICK—The man whose goal is the Annual.
- RALPH JARRET—The typical college sport; wears glasses and green socks.
- E. W. MCKAY—Much better known as "Mac". Always carrying an umbrella and a book. Will be a school-teacher.
- CARL HICKMAN—A true "hick". Uses bandoline and drylands sailor pants.
- JOHN STUDER—A Texas cowboy, whose heart is fast running to Oklahoma.
- L. D. SHOUN—"Barleycorn.". A quiet man when asleep.
- EARL BASS—A full-fledged union soda dispenser. Also very polite.
- HERBERT MORRIS—A beau brummel. Has all the women mad over him.
- JULIUS "DUDE" WESSON—One of our football heroes. Mighty quiet and loud.
- LOUIS ADAMS—A second Coles Phillips. Wants to be a milliner or designer.
- WENDELL SHOULTS—A veritable skylark. Loves money and women with a passion past human understanding.
- BOB GRIFFIN—Better known as "Grif". Truly an honor to the Honor Council.
- HARRY WILSON—A true politician. Always has a great secret to tell everyone. Will surely run a Tammany Hall.
- GEORGE DORRAH—A Mississippi product. A true Southern gentleman, and must be treated as such.
- TIM WADE POTTER—Truly a moonlight hunter and color blind.
- JIMMIE O'CONNOR—A red flag artist. Is off on every subject. Looks longingly to Russia and equal division.
- ROBERT E. GALLIMORE—The long-haired embryo lawyer with all his prospects yet to mature.
- THURSTON WESSON—Should have been a prize fighter, judging from his name. But fate made him an engineer.
- DUTCH STUDER—Whose ambition was to beat Bryson, but was ruined by his appetite, which caused us to lose him in the first semester.
- I. N. JACKSON—The man with the beautiful hair. One you just love to touch.
- EDDIE SMITH—The man who entertains with his saxophone.

Masonic Club of Cumberland University

THE purpose of its organization was to enable members of the Masonic order, pursuing all branches of study at Cumberland, to become better acquainted with each other and to promote the fraternal spirit, as outlined by the precepts of the order, among its members.

Any person who has completed the Entered Apprentice Degree of the Blue Lodge, and has satisfactorily passed an examination on same, is eligible for membership in the club.

It is an established custom of the members of the club to meet and have luncheon together one day out of each week, and at these luncheons a program is delivered consisting of short talks, on subjects relating to the order, together with a few musical numbers.

The organization of the Masonic Club has done much towards bringing members of the order into a closer relationship during their period of study at Cumberland, and it is hoped and believed that the club will forever be in existence at this institution of learning.

Phi Pi

Tennessee Omega Chapter

Phi Pi was founded as a Greek letter legal fraternity at Cumberland University in July, 1922, by seven prominent men of the Class of 1922-23:

ZACH H. DOUGLAS, Florida	Supreme Ruler
M. AARON KLINE, Texas	Senior Marshal
EARL W. MCKAY, Texas	Junior Marshal
CLYDE L. ANDREWS, Oklahoma	Treasurer
WENDELL P. SHOULTS, California	Master of Pledges
EDWARD P. GEGAN, Missouri	Chaplain
VERNON E. BANKSTON, Arkansas	Inner Guard

Chapters of this fraternity are now forming rapidly throughout the nation, and at the time this will go into print, there will be sixteen of them organized in law schools of the foremost universities. The local chapter at Cumberland, known as the Tennessee Omega, consists of members hailing from the North, South, East and West, and who stand high in social and class activities.

The following is a list of officers of the Tennessee Omega:

E. W. MAGEE, Mississippi	Supreme Ruler
HARRY WILSON, Tennessee	Senior Marshal
W. W. AFFLIS, Illinois	Junior Marshal
JAMES WRIGHT, Texas	Treasurer
CHARLES L. HAILE, Tennessee	Chaplain
ALBERT EARL KLAPPER, New York	Grand Scribe
O. K. GETTLE, California	Master of Pledges
C. K. TAYLOR, Louisiana	Correspondent

The badge of the fraternity is a gold keystone shield, bordered with pearls, displaying $\Phi \Pi$. The colors are royal purple, white and old gold, and the flowers are carnation and American Beauty rose. Its membership is confined exclusively to law students.

Nathan Green Chapter of Sigma Nu Phi was organized at Cumberland in 1916, but when war was declared early in 1917 so many of its members enlisted that the chapter was forced to suspend. The charter lay dormant until in October, 1922, when it was revived.

Sigma Nu Phi is a strictly legal fraternity, the membership of which is confined to lawyers or those who expect to become lawyers. It selects as pledges those law students who have shown themselves to be better than the average in examination and class work, and who have those qualities of character most likely to bring results in their profession. Its aim is the advancement of legal learning, the creation of a closer bond of fellowship in the profession, and the promotion of professional ethics.

The Phoenix

LEGEND says the Phoenix—an immortal bird feathered with red and gold, yet resembling an eagle—after soaring as it listeth for five hundred years, is burned to death on the altar of the temple at Heliopolis. Shortly a birdling arises from these ashes, and behold, on the third day, fully feathered, it flies away.

Such was the idea that a former editor of the PHOENIX in some peculiar manner gained. He was partly true, and in part, he was grievously mistaken. Perhaps there was an excuse for the error. The poor man was no doubt worked to death, and his once brilliant mind had grown dim because of the terrible strain of his office. The PHOENIX does not rise every five hundred years. Ah, no; it lifts itself from the ashes of last year each succeeding year. Does it fly away, and soar where it listeth? No, dear, it does not. It stays right here, and how it does hurt some people. They do say that it is feathered with gold, and perhaps they are right. To be sure, it lives on gold; it must have gold to live and grow. 'Tis easy to feed the park monkeys with peanuts. One delights to do it. But, oh, how sad a task it is to feed the poor old PHOENIX its yellow ration. The monkey cares not one whit that you should say: "I think he is a punk specimen, a regular piece of cheese." The monk is as independent as the proverbial hog. Criticism affects his growth as little as it does the journey of the sun. Not so with the PHOENIX. It is a sensitive old bird and kicking is sure to rump up his feathers and stunt his growth.

The PHOENIX is an exact reflection of the student body. It tries to represent the life at Cumberland just as it is. If you think the PHOENIX is on the bum, don't say it to anybody but yourself, for if you revile the PHOENIX, you really revile yourself. One, two or even three students cannot make a year book in the time allotted to the task. Each student has made this volume of the PHOENIX what it is. Some have done their part, and to them is the success of the PHOENIX due. Others have given their destructive criticism, and no support, and it is these who keep the PHOENIX from being what it should be. It requires the co-operation of all connected with it. Then in the years to come, and in the following years, you who will be in Cumberland, don't knock: if you don't like the year book of that year, take hold and make the next one better, bigger and a truer image of Old Cumberland as it really is.

Greater Cumberland

THE name GREATER CUMBERLAND means all that the name implies. Plans purporting to establish a $1,000,000 endowment fund have already been launched. The first apportionment of $500,000 of this fund is to be reported on in June of this year. Up until January $100,000 had already been subscribed and that with very little effort on the part of the officials who have charge of the campaign. A girls' dormitory, a common dining hall and a gymnasium are already in the making.

Campus visitors always remark concerning the beautiful campus owned by Cumberland. Every eye turns towards the immense level acreage which constitutes the territory upon which Cumberland is built. The present boys' dormitory is one of the best in the South. The girls' dormitory, although situated off the campus, is considered ideal. The administration building is one of the most convenient buildings on the campus. In this building are located the class rooms, the gymnasium, the literary society halls, the laboratories, the offices of the president and the offices of the faculty, the library, etc.

Cumberland is greatly handicapped because of the necessity for an adequate gymnasium. It is to be remembered that no university can hope to build and expand without properly trained and developed athletes. The officials, realizing the necessity of a suitable training place, have in their immediate plans, purposes which will culminate in a new gymnasium. It is rumored that this building will be constructed this summer and will entail an expenditure of approximately $35,000. Kirk Field, the newly dedicated athletic field, marks the first step towards success in the athletic branch.

President John Royal Harris, who came to Cumberland this year, has great ideals for the institution. All these threads which lead to the construction of the $50,000 dormitory, the $35,000 gymnasium, the $1,000,000 endowment fund, etc., have their origin from the office of the president. He is an untiring worker for the university. In fact his efforts towards GREATER CUMBERLAND are even greater than those expended against the liquor interests when he was superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Tennessee. If his plans are carried out the present wide-awake Cumberland will not only be GREATER CUMBERLAND, but will be one of the leading universities of the South, recognizing no peer and second to none. The alumni have their portion for the development of his plans; the students have their part, and the faculty have their quota; so we pray that all parties will work in mutual accord and when the smoke of battle has cleared away the flag of GREATER CUMBERLAND will be waving triumphant.

When Kirk Field, the new athletic stadium of Cumberland, was dedicated, a new step towards the development of GREATER Cumberland was made. This field was made possible by the contribution of one loyal alumnus who gave $1,000 towards the construction of this stadium. The name "Kirk Field" derives its name from Mr. W. C. Kirkpatrick, the man who made this great gift. The complete cost of the field, $3,000, was raised by loyal alumni in Nashville, Tennessee.

The changing from the old athletic field to the new Kirk Field does not alone mark the changing of grounds, but denotes a change in the complete system of athletics. Cumberland will no longer meet second-rate colleges upon the field of battle, but will match wits with the best universities of the South. Coach Byrd Douglas, the live wire who has charge of all the athletic activities of the university, has assured the students and alumni that the best teams will be brought to Lebanon. The growl as well as the bite of the Bulldog has already been felt upon the gridiron. Basketball and baseball find him again out in fighting togs.

A drizzling rain fell at frequent intervals during the game between Bryson College and Cumberland; however, the rain did not check the spirit that the students have been demonstrating throughout the year. This was the day of dedication, and a happy day it was, although King Jupiter did his best to mar the pleasure. Between halves, President Harris delivered the dedicatory speech. He urged that clean sport, the building of strong bodies and the best of Christian spirit prevail as long as Cumberland met other teams in combat.

President Harris closed his speech with the following words: "We dedicate this field as a kind of colosseum to make virile Christianity instead of destroying it; as a spot under the clear sun of Dixie and in the pure air of this free land, where laurel is to grow, and no weeping willow, we dedicate this field."

"With a sincere prayer for His blessing, to the glory of God, we dedicate this field."

"In such a spirit, and for such a work, we dedicate it with the name of Kirk."

The students and alumni, who had formed a great "C" around the speaker, slowly put on their hats, and it was clearly seen that the fervent wishes and words of the speaker had planted themselves so deeply in the hearts of the interested ones that no human machine could hope to erase them. Cumberland will always remember and love the name of "Kirkpatrick."

Cumberland Law School

THE year 1923 marks the most successful year that the Cumberland Law School has enjoyed. With an attendance approaching the two century mark, the total enrollment for this year's session presents quite a contrast to that recorded in the month of October, 1847, when the school opened with an enrollment of seven students. Judge Abraham Caruthers, commonly referred to as the founder of this professional branch, was at that time the only instructor. He resigned his seat upon the bench of the state to accept the position.

Cumberland has opened her doors to many stalwart and promising young men, who, after receiving the educational touch of the university, have left her portals to make a name for themselves and to reflect glory upon their Alma Mater. The law school is indeed bathed in "reflected glory" for many are her sons who stand at the zenith of the profession. Many are the governors, congressmen, supreme court judges, etc., who at one time trod the halls of the law department.

Although many of the law examiners of many of the state bars may have to use microscopes to interpret some of the hieroglyphics and answers of some of the present members of the '23 class, yet many give promise to become true supplanters of the men of "the old school."

It is believed that the principles and ideals instilled into the hearts of the students by the faculty will only culminate when they plod down the sands of time to take their places in the movements of the world. The ambitions and aspirations of the founders have been planted in the minds and the hearts of the students so that justice, and justice alone, shall prevail. When the members of the '23 class take their places before the bars of the respective states, the reputation of this school will be increased, for it is known that many remember the "motherly" admonition of Madame Elder when she offered advice to her boys:

"There's plenty of room at the top, boys,
Though crowded the pathway and long;
And no one need fail in the end, boys,
If he's honest and patient and strong."

Official Rules of the Library

Not more than ten persons shall talk aloud at the same time, and then they must not use stronger words than "shucks," "dern it," "doggone it," "by George," "gee," "Beelzebub," and "Damfino."

There must be no smoking of rabbit tobacco, fig leaves, or corn silks; only tobacco smoke will be tolerated.

Students should not slip out more than three reference books at a time, if the class needs them. Get as many novels as you like. These, however, should be returned your senior year. Don't register at the desk for any book you want. It will annoy the librarian. Books in the stock room are for the use of the faculty only, and students should not display their greenness by asking for any of them.

Chewing gum is feminine. Always chew real tobacco.

Spitting in another's face is positively forbidden. Use the floor for such motley deeds.

Poker shall not be played on the reading tables on Sunday. All bets on the game, when played, shall be confined to $5.00.

No one is allowed in the reading room without hobnail shoes on. People might not notice your entrance.

No student is allowed to collect and keep all the story magazines for more than a half-day at a time.

Students who go to sleep at a reading table must not be disturbed. It would interfere with their personal liberty.

Magazines are for your use—clip them freely.

A big reward will be paid for the capture of anyone found using a dictionary, encyclopædia, or other reference book. These books are made to look at.

Fines being imposed upon delinquents for the personal enrichment of the librarian, students are requested to make provision in their last will and testament for the payment of same.

The Alumni Association

THE Alumni Association of Cumberland University was organized many years ago. In 1902 the organization was as follows: Nathan Green, president, and P. Marion Simms, secretary. In 1904 Professor J. S. Waterhouse was made secretary. From 1910 to 1914 Professor C. H. Kimbrough filled this office. He was succeeded that year by Professor W. P. Bone. In January, 1920, Professor W. P. Bone was made general alumni secretary by the board of trustees of the university.

During the two years or more when Dr. P. M. Simms was alumni secretary, a prodigious amount of work was done in gathering information about the alumni. He went about his work in a systematic manner, and very intelligently.

The Alumni Association holds its annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon of Commencement Week at Caruthers Hall. All graduates and former students may become members of the association. The officers are: President, David Earle Mitchell, A.B., '02; first vice-president, Rev. John Royal Harris, B.D., '94; second vice-president, Rev. James Henry Miller, B.D., '86; third vice-president, Rev. Andrew B. Buchanan, A.B., '79, B.D., '83; treasurer, Rufus R. Doak, B. S., '93, LL.B., '96; secretary, Winstead P. Bone, B.D., '86.

The General Alumni Association has a board of directors consisting of the following members: E. E. Bears, A.B., '70, LL.B., '71; D. E. Mitchell, A.B., '02; J. H. Miller, B.D., '86; A. B. Buchanan, A.B., '79, B.D., '83; A. B. Humphreys, A.B., '94, LL.B., '95; W. L. Harris, A.B., '12; A. W. Hooker, LL.B., '87; E. G. Walker, LL.B., '08; Julian Campbell, LL.B., '08; Homer Hancock, '00; Grafton Green, A.B., '91, LL.B., '92; E. J. McCroskey, A.B., '71; J. O. Baird, A.B., '00; E. L. Stockton, A.B., '13; R. R. Doak, B.S., '93, LL.B., '96; W. P. Bone, B.D., '86.

The Alumni Association issues the Cumberland Alumnus, the object of which is to unite the alumni in the service of the university. Seven or eight numbers have already been issued. The purpose is to issue this magazine six times a year. Dr. W. P. Bone is the editor.

The alumni dues and the subscription for the magazine are two dollars each year. All members of graduating classes are expected to become subscribers. All who can do so should subscribe five or ten dollars a year for this purpose.

The university is at present engaged in a campaign to raise $500,000 as an addition to the permanent endowment of the institution. Of this amount, $100,000 is to be raised among the alumni, and this latter fund is to be known as the Judge Nathan Green Memorial Fund.

Some Important Dates

- September 13—Freshmen come to town; green grass yearns for another color.

NASHVILLE, TENN.

¶ More than ninety universities, colleges and schools of the South favored us with their Annual printing contracts for the year 1923.

¶ This phenomenal record is the natural result of the high quality of workmanship displayed in all our publications, coupled with the very complete service rendered the Staff.

¶ From the beginning to the end we are your counselor and adviser in the financing, collecting, and editing of your book.

¶ Surely if "Experience is the best teacher," as an old maxim says, then our service must be supreme. Decide right now to know more about our work and service. Simply write for our proposition.

Popular Newbern Boy Discovers Wonderful Treatment

"Six months ago my nerves were in such condition that I couldn't even run down a pedestrian without feeling faint and weak. My arms and knees quivered so that it was dangerous for me to ride more than three races a day. I could eat only three meals a day and I rarely slept more than ten hours a night. After taking eight bottles of Warner's Dandruff Remover and Toothache Remedy, I feel like a new man." This is what a prominent Newbern boy, A. B. Arnett, writes about our wonderful medicine for women.

UNIVERSITY TRAINING IS THE FOUNDATION OF SUCCESS

AND

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY

(Founded in 1842)

OFFERS YOU not only the many educational advantages obtainable at other colleges, but additional training in special courses in different lines that will thoroughly and properly prepare you for the greatest success in your particular vocation or chosen profession. The greatest success cannot be made without the proper foundation. College-trained men succeed best.

SITUATED thirty miles east of Nashville, in an unusually fine community, with a beautiful campus of fifty acres; attractive, well-appointed buildings.

MANAGEMENT. Thoroughly reliable, efficient, Christian instruction and in a moral, Christian atmosphere.

DEPARTMENTS. The College of Arts offers courses leading to the degrees of A.B. and B.S. Excellent advantages for undergraduate work. Law School, offering one-year course, leading to the degree LL.B. Preparatory, Music, Home Economics, Public Speaking, School of Journalism and School of Commerce, the latter two being recent additions.

LABORATORIES for Chemistry, Physics, Biology and Home Economics, a Museum of Natural History, a Museum of Missions and a library of 15,000 volumes.

ATHLETICS. Clean, fair athletics, free from professionalism and commercialism. One of the best football ovals in the South completed this year.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS, fifteen units. Standard four-year course. Bible study required of all regular students. Expenses approximately $250 a year.

Fall Term Opens September 12
